HELLES LAGER

4.6% ABV

We could wax lyrical about this beer, it's resemblance to the liquid gold that pours by the stein in Bavaria's great beer halls, it's soft, bready malt character and faint noble hop character - but you probably just want a delicious, quaffable lager, whose presence takes a back seat to whatever conviviality you're getting up to. Tick.

285ml $7, 425ml $10

ROGGENBIER

5.2% ABV

Roggenbier (rye beer) is like a hefeweizen (wheat beer) but with malted rye instead of wheat, giving it a savoury spiciness. The yeast profile is similar, and a touch of caramel malt adds a light toffee flavor. Despite its complexity, it's a German beer, so drinkability is key.
