2025 Frankland Estate Single Vineyard Release

The cycle of vineyard life never pretends that time stops; vines grow, wines evolve, and we get older—and, hopefully, wiser. An annual wine release, however, seems to challenge that truth, calling for a neatly packaged version of events culminating at a fixed time. Milestones have the same effect; the 2024 vintage, which produced this edition of Isolation Ridge Riesling, marked a quarter of a century since siblings Elizabeth and Hunter Smith worked their first harvest together, effectively writing the opening scene of Frankland Estate's second-generation act.

Perhaps it begs the question: Where are we now?

Here's the funny thing. We are very clear about our values and what we hold dear. But when you live and breathe a vineyard—when your raison d'être is to regenerate, elevate, and faithfully portray a living thing—it becomes obvious that nothing ever sits still. As we present five wines based on four distinct grape varieties from three different vintages, it might be reasonable to ask which best expresses the essence of Frankland Estate, Isolation Ridge and the Smith Cullam family.

The best answer? All of them.

Olmo's Reward is a good place to start. A natural tendency to put things into pigeonholes makes this one tricky to explain. This heartfelt wine is perhaps our most familial. Judi and Barrie's three vintages in Bordeaux were foundational for Frankland Estate. Barrie would talk with boundless fondness about Cabernet Franc and its magical development with bottle age. Our wine's name—a nod to Harold Olmo's prescient cheerleading of Frankland River's winegrowing potential—is another throwback to its origins.

The wine has changed from a more traditional Cabernet Franc, Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot blend to more of a showcase of Isolation Ridge Cabernet Franc—a wine whose reference point is not France, nor even Frankland River, but solely our home.

It's hard to pigeonhole precisely because it's so heartfelt, personal and distinctive. It retains the elegance and midweight charm of our parents' vision, but its ageworthiness is allied to a more Loire-like sense of vibrancy and energy.

The Franc in 2022 was aged entirely in foudre for the first time, which has really dialled up its brightness, and we find an uncommon balance of flesh and structure to this grape in our dirt. Our best Cabernet Sauvignon frames it with tannin and shimmering dark fruit, and Mourvèdre is a novel touch that brings earth and spice. It is such a pleasure for the three of us to taste, discuss and compose this blend. The result is always original and shifts its accent over time—and yet remains utterly recognisable.

Then, there is the Syrah. It's 10 years since we went against the grain to give this grape its Rhône styling, not because it takes its cues from France but because our climate and soils naturally give us an aromatic, velvety, savoury, medium-weight style that we have leant into with the winemaking. Long hangtime, cool, shallow ferments, gentle extraction and patient maturation allow our long autumn, cool nights and ironstone soils to shine in these wines.

The cool, late 2023 season has given these reds gorgeous freshness and effortless detail; you could sense the texture and density just chewing on the grapes!

Isolation Ridge Syrah is an expression of a couple of blocks and two clones. One is the old Houghton clone, the other the 470 Hermitage clone we grafted over in 2017. The latter gives bigger berries with youthful, red-fruited vibrancy at lower potential alcohols, helping us achieve gracefulness in exuberantly perfumed, full-flavoured Syrah. The combination has every right to consider itself emblematic in its pure fruit, ferrous minerality, peppery spice and seamless, juicy length.

2025 Frankland Estate Single -Vineyard Release

And yet, what could be more elemental than the SmithCullam Syrah? It bears the family name, is only made in exceptional years (2020 was the last edition) and comprises only destemmed Syrah grapes from the original 1988 plantings. This is all Houghton heritage clone, which is deeply reflective of WA in every way. We see all the balance, complexity and succulent drinkability of Isolation Ridge in a wine of more singular impact, stoniness and sinew. Which one is more Frankland Estate? Both!

Rounding out the '23 trio is Mourvèdre, the third outing for this wine under the Isolation Ridge label. Maybe the new kid on the block is yet to earn its full provenance stripes? In fact, Mourvèdre's arc is shaped by foresight, patient observation and trust in the site. It thus feels distinctly representative of Frankland Estate.

The vines were planted in 2004— a Frankland River first for this variety—and are a continuation of Judi and Barrie's pioneering curiosity.

With no predecessors in the region—and no desire to make a facsimile of somewhere else's style—we have let this grape settle in, learned its quirks and embraced those idiosyncrasies in what is a compelling and contradictory wine. It's a late-ripeners—in the cool autumn of 2023, we wondered if it would ever get there—but we have learned that we can pick it with fully realised flavours and ripe tannins when the pulp and pips are still green. Younger oak flatters it without leaving a mark on distinctly pretty red and blue fruit, and the ironstone soils have an affinity with its inherent spicy earthiness. This latest rendition has an Italianate slant that we really like.

Finally, from 2024, we have Riesling. This is the grape most people instantly associate with us, and we're honoured by the association. Our coffee rock, pristine air, warm autumn days and cold nights give us a great head start, but our love of Riesling runs so deep that we feel a responsibility to bring out its x-factor. Balanced yields, long hangtimes for a full flavour spectrum, and ripe, resolved acidity are part of the puzzle. The warm 2024 season threw up its challenges. We had to rely on the resilience of the vines from more than 15 years of organic farming. An easing of temperatures later on and judicious picking helped us retain the driving natural acidity we crave, and we took great care with the free-run juice from the small berries to ensure crystalline fruit textures. This Isolation Ridge Riesling serves as a symbol of what we Do.

So, no single wine bears the essence of Frankland Estate. But individually and collectively, this suite of releases says a great deal about us, our pride in what we do and our love of where we live. Most importantly, we hope it says a lot to you—about conviction, contemplation and the convivial joys nature can provide.

'I feel this could be one of our strongest releases as a suite of wines, Riesling from a dry vintage showing impressive intensity and drive through to the red wines of 2023 which many in Western Australia are touting as one of the strongest vintages in many years, the Mourvèdre and Syrah are testament to this. Together with the Olmos from the 2022 harvest highlights just how we have been blessed with such strong vintages over the past 5 plus years.'

2024 Frankland Estate Isolation Ridge Vineyard Riesling

The majority of the wine fermented in stainless steel with 5% barrel-fermented Riesling from our Outback and North Pole blocks. All components were kept on their lees for eight months before bottling for additional texture and complexity. As always, spectacular fruit came off our old-vine (1988 plantings) Olive, Pole and Outback blocks, containing both the Geisenheim clone and Houghton's WA heritage clone.

The Isolation Ridge Riesling is always the best wine we can produce from our vineyard in any given year. Yields were low in 2024, so the total make was reduced by 25%. Citrus blossom, wet stone and smoky talc notes waft over a particularly wide spread of fruits: red apple, corella pear, lemon, kaffir lime, tangerine and grapefruit into nectarine. It's zesty and tight on entry, a wash of pure fruit given a bracingly refreshing edge by pleasantly sour fresh citrus juices and a hint of lemongrass.

It has crystalline juiciness with a clear, precise saline bead of acidity. There's an edgy purity to the medium-bodied palate, then that stony length—channelled arrow like—with a deceptive power and texture to the fruit. There's a nice, skinsy-like bitterness too; a splash of tonic, lime and mandarin with a sprig of herb on the long finale.

"Rarely does such a youthful riesling come to the glass with this high level of class and complexity. A lovely melding of the aromatic, the citrus and the apple fruited is here together with a charming spiciness and mouth-wateringly bright acidity. Crab apple, red Delicious apple, lime zest, lemon, citrus, spice, white pepper and ginger mix and play with a lovely delicate fragrance of jasmine.

Acidity is always an integral part of Isolation Ridge riesling, bringing both tension and a filigree fine basis for a palate that shines in 2024 with a little more spice, a little more piquancy than usual, and a seemingly less obvious touch of savouriness. It's a beautiful wine, unforced, naturally in balance, fragrant, enticing and long in flavour.

History dictates it will age a treat, but then one taste now also tells you it is ready to go . . . your choice.."

2024 Frankland Estate Isolation Ridge Vineyard Riesling

"On completion of my first sip, I leant back, crossed my arms, tilted my head, and let out a wry smile—soft and relaxed, like a resting hammock.

As always, this wine kills. Leaning further toward savoury characters than the '23 vintage, I enjoyed the punchy floral prettiness and overall intensity. A bouquet of white peach, tangerine peel, green mango and lime. One of the many parcels sees oak (5% of the total makeup), and the wine spends eight months on lees before bottling—building a slatey texture and complementing the tight framed, puckering acid.

"This is one of Australia's best-value wines."

Pith, chalk, pressed lavender and mandarin—it's a fruit salad breakfast in the Mentawai Islands. This is one of Australia's best-value wines, and once again, Frankland Estate is pushing boundaries in the vineyard and the industry—redefining what Australian Riesling can look like—and they're doing it from WA. This wine doesn't need food, but an autumn nectarine salad and poached chicken would pair nicely."

- 96pts Cyndal Petty, Winepilot

"Lime, apple, jasmine tea, something a bit stony and saline too. It has flavour and texture, and while it's maybe it's a little less racy in acidity than some releases, it's still beautifully balanced, and I kind of like the softness and inherent drinkability that comes with that. There's a little chalky grip, and the finish is juicy, perfumed and long with just a little grapefruit pith bite. It's distinctive and delightful. Yum"

- 95pts Gary Walsh, The Wine Front

"A very exciting dry Riesling with abnose of chamomile, yellow grapefruit, lemon blossoms and fresh garden herbs. Great concentration and textural complexity. The interplay of the fine tannins and pronounced stony minerality with the creaminess from maturation on the lees is beautiful. The touch of grapefruit-pith bitterness accentuates the drive in the long, positively austere finish."

2023 Frankland Estate Isolation Ridge Vineyard Mourvèdre

This wine comes from the oldest plantings of Mourvèdre in Frankland River, planted in 2004. In the early years, we used it mainly as a blending addition for Shiraz. But for the past handful of years, the vines have produced the exciting flavours and intensity that make them worthy of the Isolation Ridge name.

The grapes were picked late in the cool, slow growing season of 2023 and have produced a wine of power and elegance. The fruit fermented in one open fermenter for 15 days. The wine matured on lees in older French oak puncheons for 13 months.

The wine highlights what we can do with this variety in a cooler climate, achieving perfect ripeness with a brighter fruit spectrum and more medium-bodied guise than Australian renditions from warmer conditions.

The attractive medium ruby colour presages an invitingly red-tinged impression on the nose: Nebbiolo-like aromas of roses, pippy raspberry, red cherry, orange peel and clean terracotta.

Then there are the more typical Mourvèdre and Isolation Ridge signatures: salumi, blueberry, cumin and a ferrous edge. The palate is medium-bodied with superb composition and an even break; fresh-fruited, juicy and channelled with the flecks of exotic flavours that the site brings out in this variety. 110 dozen made.

This is a very fine rendition of Mourvèdre. It's medium-bodied, dusty and spicy, with fragrant dried herbs, red and blue fruit, liquorice root and dried flower perfume.

There's a little grilled meat, toasted hazelnut, and orange peel, with a bright finish of excellent length. Oh, and the quality of the tannin, I forgot to mention, is so lovely, a sort of fine brick dust texture to it. It's under-stated, and quite wonderful."

- 95pts Gary Walsh, The Wine Front

"It's the grape skins tannins that make this style so unique and wonderfully moreish. They bring dryness and lightness at first, then gently creep across the palate the wine energy and substance as you enjoy the changing flavours You can be sure this is a wine that will grow in stature, over time, as it's discovered and appreciated."

2023 Frankland Estate Isolation Ridge Vineyard Syrah

This wine is 98% Syrah with 2% Viognier. The Syrah comes from the original 1988 plantings in our Winery block of the Houghton's heritage clone, combined with a significant portion (45%) of our exciting 2017 plantings of Hermitage clone 470, which ripens a little earlier at lower Baumé on our site and adds lovely red-fruited aromatics to the profile. The stems on these clusters also get ripe, so there is no herbal greenness in the whole-bunch components, which made up 15% of the wine this year.

Matured mainly in 3500-litre French oak foudre for 13 months, with a few of the whole-bunch parcels fermented in older 500-litre puncheons. All the parcels were kept on their lees throughout their time in oak, adding a creaminess and depth to the palate—the same effect we enjoy with our Rieslings. Our cool nights and sunny days produce quite a unique style of Syrah that has in common with Saint-Joseph or Cornas than the Barossa Valley. A beautiful electric purple colour is matched by an equally bright, engaging perfume that somehow smells glossy.

There are notes of blue flowers, cherry pit, stone fruit kernel, red cherry, satsuma plum and black olive. It has a glistening, silky texture on entry, with iron and graphite wrapped around firm, ripe red and black fruit. There's energy and reach to its long-flowing juice, and savoury notes ripple through a gorgeous back palate. Silken ribbons of tannin then show a pumice-like authority on a finish that rings with peachy muscat, violet and tarragon tones. The cool season has yielded a Syrah whose disarming charm belies layers of flavour that roil and unfurl with time in the glass.

"What a stunning nose of violets, pepper, dried thyme and forest berries. The combination of freshness, focused fine tannins and concentration on the medium-bodied palate is no less exciting. An extremely long, pure and straight finish with great energy, plus a crushed rock and wild herb character that makes you feel glad to be alive."

- 96pts Stuart Pigott, Jamessuckling.com

"There is something about the kind of lively spiciness that Isolation Ridge Vineyard always brings to its wines. It's a potent and exhilarating feature once again in the 2024 syrah with an ever-present, intense black pepperiness on show. Too much? Maybe for some, but for my money it's showing its cool climate credentials and it adds a mighty fresh and lively adjunct to the wine's loganberry, black cherry, blackberry, briar and spice-laden fruits. The pepperiness provides a lot of the energy to the wine. The middle palate is plush in red fruits with a sour cherry tartness together with a whisper of woodsmoke and earthiness. It is nicely finished in firm tannins."

2023 Frankland Estate Isolation Ridge Vineyard Syrah

Between the 15% whole bunch and the garnish of 2% Viognier, the aromatics are stoooooon'n! This wine is confident in her own skin and commands respect wherever she goes. Plum juice, red liquorice and vanilla.

I want to protect this wine. Nurture it. Love it. The intense sweetness of fruit, is complimented by small framed, Velcro-like-tannins and encouraged by the 13 months spent in 3500-litre French oak foudre. Medium bodied.

“Chic and stylish—this wine drives a 1959 Cadillac.”

Doesn't need food. Drinking beautifully in its current window of youth. The finish is clean, fresh and sharp—yet the fruit carries effortlessly through the length, with blood orange, Canadian mountains and rose petals. Chic and stylish—this wine drives a 1959 Cadillac.”

- 96pts, Cyndal Petty

“A seductive style of syrah, with a heady mix of fragrant savoury spices: pepper, clove, nutmeg and cumin, with a floral top note of rose petals. The textures are svelte and silky with an overwhelming sense of purity. There's a core of intense black cherry flavours yet the overall impression is of a graceful wine that doesn't feel dense, even for a moment. Perhaps it's the 2 per cent viognier added to the blend or the two different clones of syrah grown in the vineyard? Or is it the shallow ferments and gentle extraction or the ironstone gravel soils? Whatever it may be, Frankland Estate have tapped into some kind of vinous alchemy with this syrah which is consistently exceptional.”

2023 SmithCullam Syrah

We only produce this wine in exceptional vintages; the last was made in 2020. This is 100% Shiraz from the Houghton's heritage clone planting in our original Winery Block, and as such, has a deep, old-vine resonance and personality.

The 100% destemmed fruit fermented in an open vat and was pressed to French puncheons after 12 days on skins. Matured on lees, the puncheons bring a bit more density and concentration over time compared to the brightness of the foudre maturation that contributes to the expression of Isolation Ridge Syrah.

We produced 110 dozen in honour of our parents, Judi Cullam and Barrie Smith, who first planted the Isolation Ridge vineyard in 1988.

There is plenty of vibrancy here in colour and aroma—violets, maraschino, black cherry, peach, blood plum and biscotti—yet the impression is also stony and taut, with notions of concrete, graphite and ironstone. The entry is plush and velvety, but again, the ironstone element is assertive in its stony, ferrous purity and firm core.

There's excellent fruit intensity and substance to the midpalate and finish—maybe a more Hermitage-like muscularity allied to cool, rippling layers of dark fruit, pepper, tapenade and pressed blue flowers. This is a Syrah of calm, flowing authority that is lovely to drink right now and promises a very exciting future.

"Blueberry, blackberry, lavender, cracked pepper and grilled meat, toasted nuts, aromatic, yet kind of sultry. It's medium to full-bodied, dense, packed with dark fruit, a thick seam of coal dust tannin, ferrous and dark, and yet it flashes and crackles with perfume, spice, and deep Shiraz character, and finishes long and saline with dark cherry, black olive and thyme fragrance, along with bright acidity and sooty grip."

Textbook Frankland River Shiraz, with a little tip of the hat to the Northern Rhône, maybe."

2022 Frankland Estate Olmo's Reward

This year's wine is led by 90% Cabernet Franc from our old-vine plantings in the Winery and North Pole blocks. This is complemented with 7.5% Cabernet Sauvignon from our best parcels and 2.5% Mourvèdre for a dash of earthy complexity. In recent years, we have been maturing this blend in both puncheons and larger-format (1500-litre) oak for 15 months.

Once a more traditional Bordeaux blend of Cabernet Franc, Cabernet Sauvignon, and Merlot, this wine has morphed into a showcase of Isolation Ridge Cabernet Franc. Over the decades, we have found that Cabernet Franc cellars spectacularly and drives the medium-bodied expression we are looking for from our vineyard. 350 cases made.

The nose shows red flowers, laurel and spearmint with cranberry, redcurrant, red cherry and blackcurrant, backed by a light touch of cedar and graphitey earth. That bouquet garni effect of fruit, herb and flowers carries onto a juicy, dusty, medium-bodied palate of pure Cabernet Franc fruit in a Sauvignon frame that is elegant and straight without a hint of strictness.

There's a skip to the acidity and moreish texture to the gravel-flecked, dusty tannins, and some blue fruit chimes in, too. It finishes with tangy bramble berries, rosemary and tobacco. A perfumed, graceful Olmo's Reward with charming flow, this evolves beautifully in the glass as those aromas swirl around each other within a bright mesh of tannins.

"This cabernet franc-based Bordeaux blend has a fascinating array of aromas, from dried mint to wild blackberries, camphor and warm spices. For a cabernet that's only at the upper edge of medium-bodied, this has a very serious structure. I love the interplay of velvet tannins and a delicate hint of sweetness, all the parts beautifully interlocking. The savory and earthy elements build very nicely in the long, lingering finish."

- 95pts Stuart Pigott, Jamessuckling.com

"The 2022 Olmo's Reward represents a cooler season at this estate, which is quite different from the experience of the vineyards to the west and the north of the wine-growing areas in Western Australia for whom it was warm, compacted and dry. In the mouth, the wine is very pretty, floral and fine, with tannins that feel both pliable and yet closely knit (quite like the texture of the Isolation Ridge Syrah, now that I think about it). This is composed, bright and really quite sensational."

- 95+pts Erin Larkin, The Wine Advocate

"The aromatic charm of cabernet franc is on full display with its arresting aromas of briar and rose, pepper and dried herbs with plum and black cherry fruits. It's a powerfully persuasive wine, it's also a wine intended for further ageing. The Smith family has found that cabernet franc cellars "spectacularly" well, hence, the promoted role of the grape and, with its pronounced, sandpaper fine tannins, it delivers structure and great potential for age. There is a depth of flavour already well in place, medium bodied and expansive in red fruits, crushed herbs, pepper, earth and a spiciness that lifts and engages immediately."

The people behind the brand Elizabeth Smith

We asked co-owner and second generation winemaker a few questions.

Best kept secret of the Great Southern?

The best kept secret IS the Great Southern! So many amazing beaches, walking or bike trails, fantastic local produce and wineries.

What did you study at university?

Bachelor of Science in Agriculture - University of WA and Viticulture - Charles Sturt University

How did you and Brian (head winemaker) meet?

We got chatting over a long table lunch with mutual friends, he was working at a neighbouring winery in the Great Southern region.

Something not many people know about you?

I used to ride my unicycle to the bus stop (1km each way) when I was a kid in primary school.

If you could have a superpower?

Teleportation for so many reasons.

How many children do you have?

3 - Isabel, Maeve & Reuben. 18,16 & 13 respectively

What would your kids say is your best meal?

Butter chicken and flatbreads.

In what countries have you worked vintages?

New Zealand, California, and Spain.

Favourite childhood memory at Frankland Estate?

Sunday picnics in the paddock or bush alongside the Frankland River with local families; canoes and camp fires.

Favourite Frankland Estate wine?

Well that's a tricky one, as Brian says we make wine that we want to drink. At the moment the 2023 Isolation Ridge Vineyard Riesling is just singing.

Frankland Favourites

Lamb Shawarma by Ottolenghi

A favourite of Elizabeth's and the perfect pairing with Olmo's Reward as the weather cools.

1. Put the first 8 ingredients in a cast-iron pan and dry-roast on medium-high heat for a minute or two, until the spices begin to pop and release their aromas. Take care not to burn them. Add the nutmeg, ginger and paprika, toss for a few more seconds, just to heat them, then transfer to a spice grinder. Process the spices to a uniform powder. Transfer to a medium bowl and stir in all the remaining ingredients, apart from the lamb.
2. Use a small sharp knife to score the leg of lamb in a few places, making 1.5cm deep slits through the fat and meat to allow the marinade to seep in. Place in a large roasting tin and rub the marinade all over the lamb; use your hands to massage the meat well. Cover the tin with foil and leave aside for at least a couple of hours or, preferably, chill overnight.
3. Preheat the oven to 170°C/150°C Fan/Gas Mark 3½.
4. Put the lamb in the oven with its fatty side facing up and roast for a total of about 4.5 hours, until the meat is completely tender. After 30 minutes of roasting add about a cup of boiling water to the pan and use this liquid to baste the meat every hour or so. Add more water, as needed, making sure there is always about half a centimetre in the bottom of the tin. For the last 3 hours, cover the lamb with foil to prevent the spices from burning. Once done, remove the lamb from the oven and leave to rest for 10 minutes before carving and serving.
