

Kimbolton Wines: Sustainability at the Heart of Every Drop

At Kimbolton Wines, sustainability isn't just a buzzword - it's our ethos, deeply embedded in every aspect of our family-run business. From our first vintage in 1998, we've made it our mission to be responsible stewards of the land, ensuring that future generations of winemakers and vignerons inherit a richer, greener environment.

We are proud to be a Sustainable Winegrowing Australia member and an active participant in the EcoVineyards Project. These initiatives reflect our ongoing commitment to ecological, social, and economic sustainability. Our work doesn't stop in the vineyard - we are constantly innovating to reduce our environmental impact across every facet of our operation.

Key Sustainability Initiatives

Sustainable Viticulture: We employ environmentally responsible practices, from regenerative farming techniques to soil health management, ensuring the long-term vitality of our estate.

Biodiversity and Conservation: Our estate features native corridors and tree lots, and we're proud partners of Zoos SA, investing in animal and environmental conservation.

Renewable Energy & Water Management: We have installed solar panels to power our cellar door and offices and utilize rainwater harvesting to reduce our reliance on external water sources.

Eco-Friendly Packaging: We're committed to reducing waste through the use of lightweight, recyclable materials for packaging, including the innovative use of Rose Spritz Cans.

Community Engagement: As a family business, we work to support the community and region that supports us — from offering educational opportunities to our staff, to engaging with our customers on the importance of sustainable winemaking.

Our Commitment to Future Generations

Kimbolton Wines is more than just a winery; it's a family legacy rooted in the belief that the land should be cared for, improved, and protected. We are proud to be an industry leader in sustainable practices, but we don't stop there. We are continuously looking for new ways to improve, innovate, and reduce our environmental footprint - ensuring that we can continue producing exceptional wines while also safeguarding the planet for future generations.
